

Weight Restrictions

Below is a list of weight restrictions for each centre. All weights referred to you being fully clothed. It is very important from a safety perspective that you abide by the limits for your chosen course and centre.

The limits do vary from centre to centre depending on the size of parachutes they have available. In the case of tandem skydives, the limits may also vary based on the size of instructors available as it is the combined weight of instructor and tandem student that determines whether it is safe to jump.

Most centres will also use a Body Mass Index (BMI) chart to help them make their decision.

You will be asked for your weight at the time of booking and will be advised if you are too heavy to jump. We will only accept your booking if you are within the correct limit.

If on the day of the jump, you are over the required safety limit, you risk losing your deposit and forfeiting your skydive.

Honiton will actually take tandems up to a weight limit of 19 stone, however they will charge £20 for every stone bracket that exceeds 15 stone. E.g. 15.1 stone will result in an extra £20 charge.

Please note that these weight limits are correct at the time of print. Any changes will be notified at the time of booking.
